FYI, it seems like the enterprise GIS layers are down on other viewers (Park City). No one cares, don't worry about it right now.

Good Afternoon

All of our GIS layers are now in our Enterprise GIS Database. Please continue to use those layers and we will continue to process well sampling in the respective datasets. This use of enterprise will allow for an any transition as people move from different locations. Good work everyone. If you need new layers added please let me know.

Thanks
